Dear Parent/Carer,

We are delighted to announce that Bigfoot Arts Education will be working in your child's school this term to deliver an educational workshop exploring Anti Racism.

This programme has been designed specifically for KS2 and aims to help children understand that, although we all have some prejudices and privileges that can leave us with 'blind spots' when it comes to other people's journeys, being actively anti racist can make a real difference. Throughout the one-hour workshop your child will be encouraged to:

- Identify different forms of racism
- Consider how to respond to racist bullying and behaviour
- Know how to actively take steps to work towards equity and equality
- Identify the links between racism and wellbeing

This is a fantastically positive opportunity for students to work together in a safe and supportive environment in order to recognise what it means to be anti-racist and why education in this area plays a key role.

It is our hope that, after our visit, your children will come home and talk to you about what they have learnt. If you require any further information to help support these conversations, please utilise the wonderful resources 'Talking to children about racism' that have been developed by the NSPCC HERE.

Yours Sincerely

Mr A Tickner
